

New Changes Coming to Eagle Valley Golf Course

Evansville, IN – February 9, 2016 - Dean and Dirk Brinker, new owners of Eagle Valley Golf Course, are excited to announce that big changes have happened since the start of the New Year! The Brinker family has been a part of the long, rich Evansville golf community, and the new ownership will allow for that tradition to continue. There will continue to be an investment of time, resources, and monetary contributions that will improve the overall Eagle Valley Golf Course property and the products and services they offer. Changes are being made from top to bottom including: staff, maintenance facility, the iconic clubhouse, as well as the golf course playing conditions.

“Dirk and I are thankful that our parents, Roland and Jeanette Brinker, have allowed us the opportunity to carry on the family legacy as a second generation. My father and mother have been the owners for the past seventeen years. It is rare for family businesses to be fortunate enough to have second and third generations involved in business, especially in the golf community. We have a long-term vision that will take several years to achieve. We are committed to that vision and promise to make changes every year to improve our facility. We are excited to make improvements, and our ultimate goal is to promote the game of golf and make it fun for all skill levels for both men and women” stated Dean Brinker, new owner of Eagle Valley Golf Course and current owner of Brinker’s Jewelers.
